About the Director — Jean Lewis

The theatre is not dark. It was, momentarily in March of 68, but because of Jean Randolph Lewis it is still a bright and shining light. At a time when Red Mask needed her most she took over the reins as Director. She has directed The Childrens Play for the past nine years. Also—Barefoot In The Park, Odd Couple, Delicate Balance, and Three Bags Full. Those of us who have been privileged to work with her know just how much she has given of herself, the hours of hard work, her enthusiasm, patience, and understanding have guided us. But first of all Jean is a devoted wife and mother, and because of this it is her decision not to direct on a full time basis. We are sorry, yet we understand and respect her for her decision.

Jean, Red Mask salutes you with a most fond, "Thank You."

About the Producer — Don Dunn

Don Dunn has worked very hard for Red Mask this season. Don played one of the starring roles in Odd Couple, our Fall Production. He brought to our stage a convincingly funny and believable Oscar Madison. For our Winter Production, Delicate Balance, he did the sound and worked on the set. He participated in experimental theatre. As producer of this play he has duties of endless number.

To sum it all up — Don has been an inspiration to veteran and newcomer alike, with his willingness, dedication, and just plain hard work.

About the Play —

Three Bags Full by Jerome Chardorov, based on the play by Claude Magnier, was presented at the Henry Miller Theatre, NYC, March 6, 1966. It was directed by Gower Champion. Paul Ford starred in this production.

About the Cast — (In Order of Appearance)

TOM LEWIS — JENKINS

This is Tom's first role on the Red Mask stage, although he has been a member for many years. He is the husband of Director, Jean, and Father to Molly and Mrs. Vincent Reynolds. Tom is a sales representative for ESCO.

NANCY DUNN — KATHLEEN

While this is Nancy's first appearance here, the stage is not a new experience to her. She has appeared as a soloist for various organizations and is also a talented organist. She is active in Danville Junior Womens Club and is a Past President. She is a member of the Board for the County Museum, presently serving as Historian. She and Don have a family of three daughters.

PAUL DAVIS — MR. BARLOW

After an absence of a few years, Paul is returning to the Red Mask stage. He has formerly appeared in The Diary of Anne Frank. Back stage his efforts have included sound effects for The Girl in 509, Mousetrap, and The Rainmaker. Paul has three children. He is employed by General Electric as Sr. Materials Development Engineer.

JACK WILKINSON — RICHARD FOYLE

Jack is making his third Red Mask appearance tonight. Previously he portrayed the Devil in Population Explosion, a summer production, and in Catch Me If You Can. He has done sound and lights for five plays, as well as serving as Publicity Chairman for the past two years.

ALICE JO WARD — ANGELA BARLOW

Her first play was Be Happy, Go Proud; a summer production, she also appeared in the Odd Couple. Alice participated in Experimental Theatre this year. She served on the Casting Committee for Delicate Balance.
