A FEW GOOD MEN

BY AARON SORKIN

Produced by special arrangement with
SAMUEL FRENCH

SCENE

The action takes place in various locations in Washington, D.C. on the United States Naval Base in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba

TIME

Summer, 1986

There will be one 15 minute intermission

Concessions are available in the basement of the theater during intermission

A Few Good Men contains mature language. There will be a gunshot during the second act.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Directing a stage play is always a challenge, and each production is unique in its challenges. Comedies are fun, but timing and tempo are the challenge. Drama can be heavy, so you search for that little bit of comedy to lighten the darkness. I love doing both, but drama is my personal favorite, and this is one of the best dramas I have read in years. Challenges have been many. However, my wonderful cast has not been one of them. Lighting, staging, and costuming have been difficult, but when you see the finished product, I think you will agree all of our collected effort was worth it. The “military language” and superb acting will draw you into this intense and rewarding drama. Semper Fi!!!

FROM THE PRESIDENT...

A Few Good Men is such a well-known show due to its success as a movie, that I was elated when Red Mask picked it for their 2018-19 season. This show brings up some very similar topics that we are being faced with in today's world. We are taught at a young age that when a person of authority gives us an order we are to obey, very much like the two Marines that will face trial in this show. They were given an order and they obeyed, no questions asked, for most of us do as we are told. One might question it in their own mind, but you don't dare question the commanding figure out loud. However, when do you step up and question authority when it is using its power in an abusive way?

Every time I read this show I sit and think what I would do if I were given this kind of task by my superior. Would I speak out, go to someone else in charge, would I honor my commander's wishes? Most would simply turn a blind eye and just do what they are told even when they know it's wrong. These are all questions I ask you to consider while you are watching this show. What would you do?

President*
