Mr. Clyde Norman
Chairman, Board of Directors
Armstone Mills
Westport, New Hampshire

Dear Clyde;

I am pleased to announce that the distinguished playwrite, Mr. Joseph Hayes, has completed his work on the manuscript dealing with the devastating events that faced us only months ago. I have had the opportunity to read Mr. Hayes' work, and was deeply moved by his vivid portrayal of those few short days that wrought havoc among us.

Red Mask Players, through special arrangement with the author's agent, Samuel French, Inc., has scheduled production dates for the play, which Mr. Hayes has titled "CALCULATED RISK". It is to open on Nov. 12 and run through the 21st at the Kathryn Randolph Theatre in Danville, Illinois.

It is my sincere hope that others who enjoy similar responsibilities in the business world will benefit from the events portrayed in this play. Though at the time we may have felt otherwise, Medlow is not unique. Others like him will plague corporate sanctity wherever and whenever men will part with self respect and integrity for profit.

Very truly yours,

Julian Armstone
