TO RED MASK MEMBERS

The officers and directors of Red Mask Players feel compelled to ask for additional aid and co-operation in the task of producing our next play. We must urge all of you, who possibly can, to volunteer for committee work and to try out for the play. Only by your response shall we be able to justify carrying out plans for the concluding performance of the year.

“It Is Later Than You Know”

Red Mask Players, in presenting their third production of the year, have chosen a piece that kept London on its toes for more than a year and had a most successful New York run. Mr. Ridley has taken the vicinity of Rockland, Maine, for the locale of his story, woven about an old legend of a phantom locomotive that comes sweeping through the village leaving death in its wake. In addition to the element of mystery, the author has sprinkled incidental fooling generously throughout the three acts.

We sincerely hope that you will enjoy our interpretation of "The Ghost Train."
